

Safety In The Clinical Use Of Cytotoxics v2.0 - NHS Order Form

Thank you for your enquiry about the Safety In The Clinical Use Of Cytotoxics training CD-ROM. This programme was developed in response to incidents of mis-administration of chemotherapy. It is suitable for doctors, pharmacists and nurses working with cytotoxics.

The teaching material is provided on a CD-ROM which can be installed onto any computer on the site of the license holder. Once the student has worked through the material and feels that they have attained competence in the use of cytotoxics they can validate their training by completing a formal web-based multi-choice assessment. Assessment results are returned to the student by e-mail.

The software is available at an annual licence fee for a named site or sites. Licensed sites can buy access to the web-based assessment for each user whose training needs to be validated.

The programme covers many of the elements of the recently issued National Guidance, and is currently being considered by the Department of Health for inclusion in a National Training Package in this area.
